

International week in Health Care, Physiotherapy and Social Services

Tampere University of Applied Sciences (TAMK), Tampere, Finland
5th – 9th of October 2020

NOTICE!

In case of pandemia continues, online option will be then available.

Description

The aim of the international week is sharing innovative practises in teaching and research, networking with colleagues and developing possible future projects together. There is a possibility for collaboration with partners on several levels in a multicultural and inspiring environment.

Programme

The programme of the week consists of presentations, workshops, practical lessons and round-table discussions, and the participants will get to experience the Finnish culture and unique nature. All participants are invited to contribute to the programme of the week by giving a session on a topic that is closest to their own teaching or research interests. Participants are students and teaching staff. The detailed programme will be designed when the participants have been selected and the session topics have been agreed.
